DEDICATION

M. ROBERT COOPER, M.D.

Throughout our first four years of medical training we have encountered many dedicated teachers who sought to instill in us an appreciation of the principles and practice of medicine. Their influence pervades our present attitudes towards medical care and undoubtedly will be reflected in our future practice of medicine. With this in mind, the Senior Class dedicates the 1973 Gray Matter to Dr. M. Robert Cooper, a physician who has been integral to this training and who in his approach to medicine most closely embodies and unifies the multiple facets of academic practice: patient care, medical education, and clinical research.

Patient Care

The care of a patient with neoplastic disease demands the best in diagnostic and therapeutic skills as well as an individual program of emotional and physical support. By means of a 'team approach' Dr. Cooper utilizes the full range of professional skills of the house-staff, medical and nursing students, and paramedical personnel in an effective problem-oriented delivery of medical care.

Medical Education

The Hematology-Oncology Division of the Department of Medicine maintains an active in-hospital Service and serves as a Regional Oncology Center. As a member of this group Dr. Cooper conducts teaching rounds, seminars, and coordinates the primary patient responsibility among housestaff and medical students.

In addition to in-hospital education, he joins in a program of regional seminars, telephone conferences, consultation clinics, and civic talks which aid the understanding of hematological and neoplastic disease by local physicians and laymen.

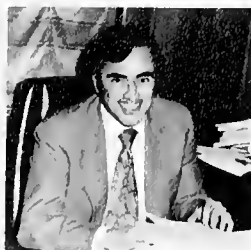

Clinical Research

Dr. Cooper has the ability to perform pertinent clinical research without losing sight of the individual patient. In conjunction with a coordinated research effort by basic scientists and clinicians in this and other medical centers, he has made major contributions in the areas of white blood cell disorders, the hemoglobinopathies, and immunohematology. Through these efforts he has been a contributing author to more than 20 original research papers and responsible for the identification of two new white cell disorders.

CITATIONS FOR

Dr. John Edmonds

... a physician whose mild manners put us at ease, and whose dedication to teaching has inspired us.

Dr. Robert Gibson

... a good physician, cool under pressure, constantly applying a basic science knowledge to patient care.

Dr. Frank James

... an excellent teacher and clinician who in addition has played a major role in the development of a new curriculum.

EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING

Dr. Charles McCall

... a complete physician, totally involved, and a teacher dedicated to an integrated approach to total patient care.

Dr. Robert McKone

... a physician with an exceptional talent for teaching, who has left with each of those encountering him a part of his fierce devotion to his patients.

Dr. William McLean

... a physician who shows compassion and guided concern for the patient, and an abounding interest in the student. He is a man of uncommon abilities who excites and encourages the student to reach for the extraordinary within himself.

250 Students Begin Classes at Med School

Classes began today for the 250 medical students at Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

Joining the upperclassmen at the school this year are 76 first-year students, the largest freshman class ever to be admitted at the school.

Classes will be held this fall in a new $5.7-million addition to the medical school.

And this year's students are the first beneficiaries of a newly revised curriculum, since Bowman Gray became a four-year medical school in 1961.

Classes also began today for 47 graduate students at the school who are pursuing advanced degrees in the basic sciences.

Instruction for students enrolled in Bowman Gray's allied health programs and those in the School of Nursing at Baptist Hospital began last Monday.

Of 471 students enrolled in the nursing school, 96 are

FIRST-YEAR COMPREHENSIVE FINAL

Old Type K

1. This photo represents a demonstration of:
 - a. A freshman medical student exhibiting alpha-motor neuron stimulation initiated through the interaction of his limbic system and reticular activating system and transmitted via the corticospinal tract in an effort to win some money to pay next year's increased tuition.
 - b. "Brutal Bob" proving that he would much rather be a Champion Penny Pitcher than a shoemaker.
 - c. A prefrontal association-area lesion resulting in impairment of the pyramidal and extrapyramidal motor activity, sensory impairments, and limited cerebellar dysfunction most likely caused by too many Type K questions on neuroanatomy exams.
 - d. Decerebrate Rigidity in his anti-gravity muscles complicated by an ipsilateral extension of the contralateral forelimb or what may be described as the best position required to attain champion penny-pitching form.

True/False

2. You don't have to memorize it, just know it.
3. You don't have to know it, just memorize it.
4. You don't have to know it or memorize it, just forget it (which means you had better memorize it and know it since it's sure to be on the test).
5. The Krebs Tricarboxylic Acid cycle which may provide the energy to drive the area cycle definitely will not provide the energy to cycle the sleepy rider's two cycle motorcycle unless his plugs foul. In that instance, his Krebs cycle may be of some assistance in getting the uncoupled two-cycle cycle to the motorcycle shop. This increased Krebs cycle activity necessary to recycle the two-cycle cycle will cause an increase in the urea cycle of the kidneys.
6. The sleepy rider is in reality Steve Kiley, M.D.
7. The sleepy rider is actually none other than our own Murray Cohen.

Multiple Choice

8. This is a classical example of:
 - a. A man's search for his coffee cup.
 - b. Someone who must be lost because he never seems to know where his office is.
 - c. Terrata
 - d. A man who wants us to know that the placenta was our most important organ and that fertilization was (and will continue to be) the most important event in our lives. In addition, and so we never forget, "These are developmentally salient points!"

Essay

9. In 25 words or less state who you think deserves the Coach of the Year Award in the IgG Conference and why?
10. Describe the best performance of the year from the choices listed below. In your answer be sure to include why it deserves this high honor:
 - a. Dr. McCreight's "Descent of the T _____".
 - b. Dr. Miller's "Journey through the Ventricles".
 - c. Dr. Biddulph's "Bird".
 - d. Dr. DeChatelet's "Prologue".
 - e. Dr. Malindzaks' "Monologue".
 - f. Stormin's "Lectures".
 - g. Dr. Pennell
 - h. "Lightnin' and the Monks."
